Description: THIS RESOURCE IS NO LONGER IN SERVICE. Documented on December 5th, 2022. An open-source platform designed for organic sharing and collaborative work, it provides the CTSA Consortium with a convenient web platform for networking, exchanging resources, and collaborating. Created and maintained as a tool for the CTSA Consortium, it can be implemented by organizations, either in a standalone installation or via cloud-based hosting provided by Zaloni, Inc. The installation package is available at <http://www.getsharecenter.org/>, including a package optimized for research networks. ShareCenter integrates with VIVO and is a demonstration site for the new CTSAconnect project that will coalesce the VIVO and eagle-i ontologies. CTSA personnel can use ShareCenter to connect and share with each other, while CTSA members can (a) set up the open-source package, which includes a version optimized for research networks or (b) easily create their own private "channel" on CTSA ShareCenter. * Search for resources and people. * Contribute your institute's gems. * Look cool for being a top contributor! ShareCenter Features * Easy search and access: Find content easily using faceted search. * Team based workspaces: Easily create and manage private collaboration spaces. * Connect with other users and follow their activities: Connect with other CTSA members. Follow their activities. * Subscriptions and Notifications: Subscribe to interesting content and receive notifications when your requests are filled. * Sophisticated categorization of information: Content can be categorized by key function areas, taxonomy and keywords. * Incentives for sharing: Reward users for sharing resources, ideas, expertise, skills.
