Description: The HTSR offers a full complement of histology services through our combined Human Tissue Bank, histology, and IHC departments. The Human Tissue Bank supports tissue procurement and the retrieval of fresh frozen and archival paraffin blocks. The Histology laboratory provides processing, embedding and microtomy services both for fresh frozen and fixed tissues. The Histology lab also provides numerous routine and non-routine histological stains. The Immunohistochemistry (IHC) laboratory supports colorimetric and fluorescent IHC staining for established antibodies as well as the development of protocols for new antibodies. The IHC lab also supports TUNEL labeling and novel labeling techniques.
