Proper Citation: Cam-Su Genomic Resource Center (RRID:SCR_026101)

Description: CAM-SU Genomic Resource Center of Soochow University is National Center for International Research, shared UK-Chinese mutant ES Cell Repository for Asian-Pacific research community, and platform for mouse model production and phenotyping and mammalian genome function deciphering. Constructs human-specific gene mutations in human embryonic stem cells via CRISPR system for disease modeling, functional annotation, drug discovery, and more. CAM-SU Genomic Research Center also conducts research in stem cells and organoids to accelerate bioresource development.

Synonyms: CAM-SU Genomic Resource Center of Soochow University

Resource Type: organism-related portal, biomaterial supply resource, cell repository, data or information resource, topical portal, portal, material resource

Keywords: mutant ES Cell Repository, mouse model, production and phenotyping, mammalian genome function deciphering, gene mutations in human embryonic stem cells, CRISPR system for disease modeling,
