Proper Citation: HNDC Enhanced NeuroImaging Core (RRID:SCR_010993)

Description: Core facility that provides access to advanced confocal, multi-photon and wide field microscopy and provides the following services: ImageJ Image Analysis Service. The facility specializes in various forms of fluorescence, brightfield, DIC (Differential Interference Contrast) and live cell imaging. They offer users comprehensive training (data acquisition and image analysis), assistance in the design of experimental protocols and imaging analysis service. Questions regarding cell and tissue fixation techniques, fluorophore selection and immunostaining principles are always welcome, as are requests for instruction in live cell and tissue imaging. They offer flexible and customized training and support to both established and new users throughout the NeuroDiscovery community.
