Proper Citation: Oak Ridge National Laboratory (RRID:SCR_011475)

Description: A multiprogram science and technology laboratory managed for the U.S. Department of Energy by UT-Battelle, LLC, to deliver scientific discoveries and technical breakthroughs that will accelerate the development and deployment of solutions in clean energy and global security, and in doing so create economic opportunity for the nation. Scientists and engineers at ORNL conduct basic and applied research and development to create scientific knowledge and technological solutions that increase the availability of clean, abundant energy and restore and protect the environment; and contribute to national security. ORNL also performs other work for the Department of Energy, including isotope production, information management, and technical program management, and provides research and technical assistance to other organizations.

Abbreviations: ORNL

Synonyms: Clinton Laboratories

Resource Type: data or information resource, organization portal, portal

Keywords: multiprogram, department of energy, clean energy, global security

Availability: Available to the research community

Resource Name: Oak Ridge National Laboratory
