Description: THIS RESOURCE IS NO LONGER IN SERVICE, documented on June 08, 2011. This database contains gene expression data for various physiological and pathological processes in mouse brain. All the data have been obtained by adaptor-tagged competitive PCR, an advanced version of quantitative PCR. Brain Gene Expression Database (BGED) contains gene expression data for various physiological and pathological processes in mouse brain. All the data have been obtained by adaptor-tagged competitive PCR, an advanced version of quantitative PCR. Manual Download 1. Data retrieval Gene expression data can be retrieved either by ID numbers or by keywords representing functional annotations from this page. The ID numbers include GenBank, RefSeq, SwissProt, Gene Ontology, and BED (our own ID). The keyword search is based either on definition in GenBank, SwissProt and RefSeq, functional annotation of SwissProt database, or Gene Ontology terms. 2. Gene expression pattern display * Display of multiple gene expression patterns. Expression patterns of multiple genes selected by the keyword search can be displayed from the result page of the keyword search. * Gene expression pattern similarity search This function is available on the information page of each gene accessed through BED ID (in-house ID).
