Description: The BioInformatics Resource Inventory (B.I.R.I.) is a public online searchable index of bioinformatics resources developed at the Biomedical Informatics Group. Information describing the resources has been automatically extracted from the literature and indexed using Natural Language and Text Mining techniques. The index is automatically updated by analyzing new papers describing existing resources (databases, tools, services). Sponsors: BIRI is supported by the Biomedical Informatics Group, Spain. Keywords: Resource, Bioinformatics, Inventory, Searchable, Database, Index, Biomedical, Literature, Language, Mining, Analysis, Tool,

Synonyms: BIRI

Resource Type: computational hosting, database, data or information resource, service resource
