Description: THIS RESOURCE IS NO LONGER IN SERVICE. Documented on April 15,2024. VBI trains and educates members of the laboratory animal science community on surgical refinements, biomethodologies, anesthesia and analgesia as well as a variety of other topics. VBI utilizes a global network of world-renowned experts to harmonize education and incorporate best practices into all training protocols. Though training, VBI improves the quality of research data, promotes animal welfare and enforcesrefinement, reduction, and replacement in animal research. VBI has validated competency and proficiency assessment tools that are an integral part of training and knowledge transfer. Our on-line courses have been validated to show that their use before hands-on training improves the knowledge transfer and competency of the end user.
