Proper Citation: Pennsylvania State University Huck Institutes CSL Behring Fermentation Core Facility (RRID:SCR_024459)

Description: Biotechnology pilot plant capable of research and pilot scale production of microbial cells, recombinant proteins, and other microbial products over wide range of controlled conditions. Facility provides equipment and expertise to university affiliated and independent government and industry researchers interested in fermentation and related technologies, including cell separation and disruption, biomolecule production and purification, and process monitoring.

Synonyms: Huck Institutes CSL Behring Fermentation Facility

Resource Type: core facility, service resource, access service resource

Keywords: ABRF, fermentation, microbial cells production, recombinant proteins production, microbial production,

Availability: Open

Resource Name: Pennsylvania State University Huck Institutes CSL Behring Fermentation Core Facility

Resource ID: SCR_024459

Alternate IDs: ABRF_2451
