Proper Citation: OBO Relation Ontology (RRID:SCR_004285)

Description: The OBO Relation Ontology is an ontology of core relations for use by OBO Foundry ontologies. To enhance the treatment of relations in biomedical ontologies we advance a methodology for providing consistent and unambiguous formal definitions of the relational expressions used in such ontologies in a way designed to assist developers and users in avoiding errors in coding and annotation. The resulting Relation Ontology can promote interoperability of ontologies and support new types of automated reasoning about the spatial and temporal dimensions of biological and medical phenomena. The OBO Relation ontology is undergoing substantial changes: * Core domain-independent relations will live in BFO * Biology specific relations (defined in terms of core relations) will live in RO
