Proper Citation: Stanford Sarafan Macromolecular Structure Knowledge Center Core Facility (RRID:SCR_023233)

Description: Service center and teaching lab focusing on molecular structural-functional studies. Jointly established by Sarafan ChEM-H, School of Engineering and SLAC National Accelerator Laboratory. Provides Stanford researchers with expertise, training and instruments for techniques in spectroscopy, bioimaging, crystallography, and scattering and diffraction.

Abbreviations: MSKC

Synonyms: Macromolecular Structure Knowledge Center

Resource Type: access service resource, core facility, service resource

Keywords: USEDit, ABRF, spectroscopy, bioimaging, crystallography, scattering and diffraction, expertise, training, instruments

Availability: Restricted

Resource Name: Stanford Sarafan Macromolecular Structure Knowledge Center Core Facility
