Description: Software R package for analyzing and interpreting results of PICRUST2 functional prediction. Offers range of features, including pathway name/description annotations, advanced differential abundance methods, and visualization of differential abundance results. Used for PICRUST2 predicted functional profile analysis and visualization.

Resource Type: software toolkit, software resource, source code

Defining Citation: PMID:37527009

Keywords: PICRUST2 predicted functional profile analysis and visualization, analyzing and interpreting results of PICRUST2, PICRUST2 functional prediction, differential abundance visualization,
