Description: Founded 1884, the Ohio Northern University's College of Pharmacy has had the privilege to graduate over 7,000 pharmacists during its 125-year history. The R. H. Raabe College of Pharmacy is distinctive among other colleges of pharmacy as it integrates a comprehensive foundation in the pharmaceutical sciences and the practice of pharmacy along with a strong liberal arts curriculum. Our graduates are particularly active in local, state, and national health-related organizations. The College is committed to assuring that all students receive the finest education possible. Our faculty members are dedicated scholars with a desire to assist student learning. Our outstanding clinical facilities and preceptors illustrate the application of knowledge to actual therapeutic decisions. The Doctor of Pharmacy program is designed to provide the student with the preparation and background for a successful career in a vital health profession.
