Description: THIS RESOURCE IS NO LONGER IN SERVICE. Documented on August 11, 2025. The Milstein Synthetic Chemistry Core Facility was created through the generosity of Weill Cornell Overseer Howard P. Milstein. The facility provides the equipment and expertise to assist investigators in several areas. Utilizing a newly renovated organic synthesis laboratory, we have the capacity to design and execute efficient and economical chemical syntheses. Additionally, assistance in the purification and identification of unknown metabolites can be provided. The facility primarily serves Weill Cornell Medical College, but can occasionally extend its services to include the tri-institutional academic community.
