Proper Citation: CCPN Data Model (RRID:SCR_016982)

Description: Model to cover data for macromolecular NMR spectroscopy from the initial experimental data to the final validation. Used for the large scale data deposition, data mining and program interoperability. Enables movement from one software package to another without difficulties with data conversion or loss of information. Works with CcpNmr Analysis software for analysis and interactive display, CcpNmr FormatConverter for allowing transfer of data from programs used in NMR to and from the Data Model, and the CLOUDS software for automated structure calculation and assignment. Used within the CCPN software suite for NMR spectroscopy and at the BioMagResBank for converting existing deposited restraint lists to a standard IUPAC nomenclature.

Synonyms: The CCPN Data Model

Resource Type: data storage software, service resource, database, software resource, storage service resource, software application, data repository, data processing software, data or information resource
