Proper Citation: UAlbany Proteomics Core Facility (RRID:SCR_001048)

Description: A core facility that provides services in the identification of individual proteins, characterization of entire protein complexes or biosimilars, and global analysis to discover changes in the proteomes of different samples. The core also specializes in the development of custom assays for quantitation of specific molecules in complex clinical samples.

Synonyms: UAlbany CFG Proteomics Core Facility, University at Albany CFG Proteomics Core Facility, University at Albany Center for Functional Genomics Proteomics Core Facility

Resource Type: access service resource, service resource, core facility

Keywords: proteins, biosimilars, analysis, proteomics, core facility, custom assays, quantitation

Availability: Available to the research community, Fee-for-service basis, Available to investigators at the University at Albany, Available to academic institutions, Available to commercial entities

Resource Name: UAlbany Proteomics Core Facility
