Description: This website offers educational materials and information on services of the UAB Traumatic Brain Injury Model System (UAB-TBIMS) along with links to national organizations, government agencies, and educational resources related to traumatic brain injury. The UAB-TBIMS is one of 16 national TBI Model Systems Centers working to maintain and improve a cost-effective, comprehensive service delivery system for people who incur a traumatic brain injury. A Model System must demonstrate outstanding care to individuals with traumatic brain injury, from the emergency medical services, to acute care in the hospital, to rehabilitation. The UAB TBIMS * conducts research, * distributes their research findings to both clinical and consumer audiences * collaborates with other clinical research programs and * participates in the Model Systems Database. This Center, operates within the UAB Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, which is located at Spain Rehabilitation Center in the UAB Hospital complex. Here it establishes and maintains links with emergency medical service agencies throughout the state, with state vocational rehabilitation and long-term follow-up programs.
