Proper Citation: Federal Interagency Traumatic Brain Injury Research Informatics System (RRID:SCR_006856)

Description: Platform for Traumatic Brain Injury relevant data. System was developed to share data across entire TBI research field and to facilitate collaboration between laboratories and interconnectivity between informatics platforms. FITBIR implements interagency Common Data Elements for TBI research and provides tools and resources to extend data dictionary. Established submission strategy to ensure high quality and to provide maximum benefit to investigators. Qualified researchers can request access to data stored in FITBIR and/or data stored at federated repositories.

Abbreviations: FITBIR

Synonyms: Federal Interagency Traumatic Brain Injury Research (FITBIR) Informatics System, FITBIR Informatics System

Resource Type: data or information resource, data repository, storage service resource, portal, narrative resource, database, service resource, standard specification, topical portal

Keywords: Traumatic, brain, injury, platform, common, data, element, medical, imaging, clinical, assessment, environment, behavior, brain, magnetic, resonance

Related Condition: Traumatic Brain Injury

Funding: NINDS ;
U.S. Army Medical Research and Material Command ;
Center for Information Technology
