Description: The Department of Neuroscience in the School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Pittsburgh provides outstanding undergraduate and graduate education with innovative independent and collaborative research, a well-rounded curriculum, and a seminar series by the world's most renowned leaders in the field of neuroscience. The Department has become successful and prominent based on the determination, energy, imagination, and skills of its faculty as investigators and as mentors, and on the support of the institution and the funding agencies. Consequently, morale is high and so is our optimism that we will continue to develop and maintain a world-class department.
