Proper Citation: National Resource for Biomedical Accelerator Mass Spectrometry (RRID:SCR_009006)

Description: Biomedical technology research center that develops and refines accelerator mass spectrometry methods and instrumentation for the precise, quantitative and cost-effective measurement of the effects of drugs and toxicants on humans at safe doses. It facilitates the use of accelerator mass spectrometry in biomedical research and provides training and access for researchers.

Abbreviations: Resource for Biomedical AMS

Resource Type: biomedical technology research center, training resource, access service resource, service resource

Keywords: systems biology technology center, accelerator mass spectrometry, radioisotope, isotope

Funding: NCRR ;
NIGMS

Resource Name: National Resource for Biomedical Accelerator Mass Spectrometry

Resource ID: SCR_009006

Alternate IDs: nlx_152682

Record Creation Time: 20220129T080250+0000
