Proper Citation: University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus Cancer Center Organoid and Tissue Modeling Shared Resource Core Facility (RRID:SCR_021993)

Description: Core facilitates access, generation, and usage of novel in vitro mouse and human organoid systems to promote innovative basic and translational research and disease modeling. Provides expertise in genome editing technologies for targeted knock outs, point mutations, and reporter generation in organoid systems. Provides many specialized medias and reagents to support most common organoid culture systems.
