Description: THIS RESOURCE IS NO LONGER IN SERVICE, documented September 6, 2016. The Unified Library Database, or UniLib, takes a library-level view of the EST and SAGE libraries present in NCBI's dbEST, UniGene and SAGEmap resources. This database was initially developed by NCBI in order to track and annotate libraries being generated by NCI's CGAP project. The query bar of the UniLib Library browser provides the most friendly way to navigate through these libraries. When matches to the Library browser query are returned as summaries, full library records can be retrieved through the linked Record retriever.
