Proper Citation: MODELLER (RRID:SCR_008395)

Description: Software tool as Program for Comparative Protein Structure Modelling by Satisfaction of Spatial Restraints. Used for homology or comparative modeling of protein three dimensional structures. User provides alignment of sequence to be modeled with known related structures and MODELLER automatically calculates model containing all non hydrogen atoms.

Resource Type: data or information resource, portal, simulation software, software application, software resource, topical portal

Keywords: comparative, protein, structure, modelling, satisfaction, spatial, restrain, homology, 3D, alignment, sequence, hydrogen, atom, cluster
