Proper Citation: JSU Electron Microscope Core Laboratory (RRID:SCR_009892)

Description: Core facility that provides the following services: Nanoindenter strain test service, UTM strain test service, Topography transmission electron microscopy service, Topography environmental scanning electron microscope service, Electron microscopy sample preparation service. The specific aims of the Electron Microscope Core Laboratory are: To provide investigators with access to microscopy instruments necessary for ultrastructural research in all the STEM areas; to train faculty, staff, and students on relevant methods in ultrastructural research; to help faculty, staff, and students on relevant approaches to address research questions involving morphological characterization; to improve JSU competitiveness in the innovative field of electron microscopy-based research.
