Proper Citation: Cornell University NMR Core Facility (RRID:SCR_028078)

Description: Facility provides access to nuclear magnetic resonance spectroscopy for all. Houses spectrometers ranging in field strength from 400 to 600 MHz, including two 500 MHz Brukers equipped with nitrogen-cooled Prodigy CryoProbes. New users may operate a particular spectrometer independently once they complete the required training and demonstrate the knowledge required for operating each instrument.
