Description: It was obtained from 1997 to 2005 at the University Medical Centre Ljubljana, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology. The records were obtained during regular check-ups either around the 22nd week of gestation or around the 32nd week of gestation. The women participating in the study represented a sample of the general population. In all, almost 1300 records were obtained during these years, and a preliminary database was built and used for studies by Ivan Verdenik, Gorazd Kavek, Marjan Pajntar and iva Novak-Antoli
