Proper Citation: Globus (RRID:SCR_012284)

Description: Provides research data management cyberinfrastructure and is developed and operated as not-for-profit service by the University of Chicago. Researchers can move, share, and discover data across multiple storage system platforms ??? from supercomputer to lab cluster, tape archive, public cloud or laptop. Globus provides services to design and execute secure, reliable automated task orchestration, across systems and at scale. Remote function execution services enable researchers to execute functions on diverse compute systems.

Synonyms: Globus Online

Resource Type: data access protocol, data management software, software application, software resource, web service

Keywords: cyberinfrastructure platform, research data management, data transfer, data sharing services,

Availability: Free tier features available for non-profit research. Premium tier features available by institutional subscription.

Resource Name: Globus

Resource ID: SCR_012284

Alternate IDs: SciEx_11334
