Proper Citation: Dazzler (RRID:SCR_016069)

Description: Software library and database to manage nucleotide sequencing read data. It stores the source Pacbio read information in such a way that it can re-create the original input data, thus permitting a user to remove the (effectively redundant) source files and avoid duplicating data.

Synonyms: Dazzdb, DAZZ_DB, The Dazzler Database

Resource Type: data management software, data or information resource, database, software application, software library, software resource, software toolkit

Keywords: manage, nucleotide, sequencing, data, database, library, storage, pacbio, read
