Proper Citation: Kansas University Lawrence Biomolecular NMR Laboratory Core Facility
(RRID:SCR_018671)

Description: NMR Laboratory maintains two high field NMR spectrometers in support of structural and dynamics studies of biomolecules. Its capabilities include determining high resolution structures, biological macromolecules, elucidation and structural mapping of protein-protein, protein-nucleic acid, protein-peptide, protein-drug interactions, and studies of dynamics of proteins and their complexes in solution. Laboratory staff provide advice, consultation, training, assistance and complete structure elucidation services. Staff is responsible for maintenance, upgrades, implementation of new NMR pulse sequences, and assisting local and remote users with technical problems. Equipped with Bruker Avance 800 MHz NMR instrument fitted with TCI cryoprobe and Bruker Avance III 600 MHz with variety of probes.
