Proper Citation: Louisiana State University Health Sciences Shreveport INLET High Throughput Screening Core Facility (RRID:SCR_024990)

Description: Facility focused on discovery and development of drugs and genetic targets that affect human diseases including cancer, fungal, bacterial and viral infection, neurological disorders and cardiovascular disorders. Both live and fixed high throughput microscopy is performed using Incucyte S3, Incucyte SX5 and Cellomics ArrayScan VTI HCS Reader. Provides expertise and protocol design for variety of assays including: Cell proliferation, Cell viability, Phagocytosis, Chemotaxis, Cell migration/invasion, 3D spheroid growth. INLET Core provides cutting edge, multiplexed functional imaging platforms to perform multi-well high-throughput live-cell imaging and analysis assays., THIS RESOURCE IS NO LONGER IN SERVICE. Documented on September 16,2025.

Synonyms: High Throughput Screening - INLET, Innovative North Louisiana Experimental Therapeutics program (INLET)

Resource Type: access service resource, core facility, service resource
