Proper Citation: Michigan State University Proteomics Core Facility (RRID:SCR_028467)

Description: Core provides mass spectrometry resources and expertise to assist researchers in the identification and characterization of proteins and peptides. Experiments from simple protein discovery to complex differential proteome profiling, post-translational modification mapping and protein/peptide quantification can be performed using our instrumentation and software.

Resource Type: access service resource, core facility, service resource

Keywords: ABRF, mass spectrometry services, identification and characterization of proteins and peptides,

Resource Name: Michigan State University Proteomics Core Facility
