Proper Citation: National Resource for Translational and Developmental Proteomics (RRID:SCR_016907)

Description: Organization dedicated to analysis of protein molecules by mass spectrometry, with a focus on intact protein measurements. Biomedical projects originated from clinical and basic research programs that utilize both targeted and untargeted analyses. Used for the development of new technology, training and dissemination of proteomics methods to laboratories and scientists.

Abbreviations: NRTDP

Synonyms: The National Resource for Translational and Developmental Proteomics, NRTDP

Resource Type: training resource, portal, data or information resource, service resource, organization portal

Keywords: protein, mass, spectrometry, proteomics, measurement, targeted, untargeted, analysis

Funding: NIGMS P41 GM108569

Resource Name: National Resource for Translational and Developmental Proteomics

Resource ID: SCR_016907

Record Creation Time: 20220129T080332+0000
